NUMBER 31

Large Crowd At First Ward Supper

The First Ward Supper last Friday evening was an outstanding success from every standpoint, 633 according to the report we received, were served during the evening, a large number of meals being served to the men on shift at the Factory. It was a four course dinner, and the eatables were cooked to a fine turn, so that everyone really had an enjoyable meal.

Stalls for the sale of candy, sewing, all kinds of cooking, cakes, pies, etc., were set up and did a good business during the evening, and dancing was enjoyed by a good crowd after the supper was finished.

Staked for the purpose of raising funds to purchase a curtain and stage equipment for the new recreation hall, the evening was a gratifying success to the officials of the ward, and its results will doubtless be seen in the addition of these items at the new building before long.

MORE SNOW MONDAY MORNING

Starting in the early hours of Monday, what had all the appearance of a real Canadian blizzard started and held the spotlight for about four hours. It blew itself out shortly after daylight and by 10 a.m. the sun was shining brightly and the snow had started to melt.

Sunday evening, following a lovely day, the breeze was coming from the north and during the late hours of the night and early morning, it increased in speed and snow commenced falling driven by the wind into drifts here and there. It really had the earmarks of a winter blizzard, but surprised everyone by turning into a bluster and the sun came out and the skies cleared without any low temperatures.

Alberta's second draft of trainees under the thirty day training plan are moving into camps at Red Deer, Camrose and Grand Prairie today. Roy Brummond and Turo Iwassa were amongst local draftees.

School Band About Ready For Action

The Rotary meeting concerned itself with the discussion of finances for the High School band, which organization the Rotary has had a committee working on for some time past. Last spring it was decided to gather in all the Town instrumentalists and see what else was needed and get prices on requirements and so on.

Principal L. H. Jacobs, who is also Secretary of the Band Committee, and Dr. J. S. Madill, committee chairman, reported Monday on their plans, and the

PRIORITIES BOARD NAMED

Canada has appointed a priorities board to see that military needs in lumber, machines, tools and so on, get precedence over everything else. A tightening up in the modelling and production of non-essential, has been ordered, and if we interpret the information correctly new models in vehicles, alloy rolling stock, washing machines, radios, etc., have been "Frozen" by this order, so that artisans in modelling, and tool houses, catering to the design and manufacture of these and related articles may be used for the manufacture of guns, munitions, airplane parts and so on. Further details will be released when the board gets down to work.

Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Munitions and Supply, made this announcement to the Dominion Parliament, and in the same speech stated that negotiations had been completed for the construction in Canadian Pacific coasts of eighteen large shipyards on the Atlantic and merchant vessels for the British government.

He also stated that within the next eight months, Canada's production of war materials will have been geared up to its highest pitch, and her ability to supply the needs of the present war can then be fairly well determined. Mr. Howe stated that production in nearly every line to date was ahead of schedule and that production was steadily and satisfactorily increasing.

The Raymond Servicentre changes hands tomorrow when F. D. Merrill who has been in charge for the past three months will turn it back to H. J. Fromm. So far as we can learn no definite arrangements with anyone else have been completed as yet.

NEWS NOTES

James H. Walker, M.L.A., was in Edmonton over the week-end attending a meeting of the Independent group in a discussion of provincial matters. He returned home on Sunday.

Geo. Filchak, 59, a loader at the No. 8 mine in Lethbridge, was instantly killed by a fall of rock Tuesday afternoon. He had been with the same company for many years and was a native of Czechoslovakia. A wife and three sons survive him.

Don't forget the big R. A. A. and Lions Carnival on Wednesday and Thursday, November 27 and 28th. A fine lot of prizes will be given away including a $100. War Savings Certificate. Keep these dates open and get your quarter ready for your ticket if you have not already purchased one.

The Rotary Club pledged itself to assist in the finances, so people of Raymond will hear more of this fine move in the very near future. At the Monday meeting, Scout Jas. Hudson of the First Ward troop gave a demonstration of knot tying, and Constable Ed. Hawk talked to the Rotarians on Our Youth and their observance of and reaction to law and order. The Constable also answered a number of questions.

Big Carnival Next Week

Next week, Thursday and Friday nights, Raymond's big Carnival swings into action. Unless you like noise and plenty of it, a Carnival is a good place to stay away from. When you get 10 to 15 games in progress, besides boths of goods of one kind and another and a dance orchestra in operation all at the same time, it is really a great din as one booth announcer tries to outdo everyone else in the creation of interest in his particular booth.

We are informed by the Carnival committee that this should be the best Carnival Raymond has ever had. Profiting by past experiences, some changes have been made in the set up, and the organizers believe that this one will be an improvement in many ways over past carnivals. Games are dusted off and the paint refreshed, a new one or two and all the old ones ready for business. A fine lot of prizes have been assembled quilts,

A larger weather forecasting station will open in Lethbridge on Dec. 1st, and the staff personnel will be increased to 15 members. The station will operate continuously and forecasts will be made regularly, chiefly for the guidance of aircraft operating in the vicinity.

Italy Still Losing To Greece

The mountain fighters of Greece still push back the Italians in the Koritza sector, and in the last week many Italian troops and tanks have crossed the border into Yugoslavia and have surrendered to officials there rather than submit to capture by the Greek troops. In a bayonet encounter Wednesday the Greeks forced the Fascist troops back, after capturing a great many, and other troops were battling to cut off the retreat of Italian troops, tanks and supplies from Koritza. Reports are conflicting concerning this important base some stating that it has fallen to the Greeks while others maintain that it is still held by the Italians.

Germany has asked permission to move her troops through Bulgaria and Yugoslavia and Turkey has notified Nazi officials that any move toward her borders will be met with armed resistance. Yugoslavia has also appeared so far to be friendly to Britain and Greece and may refuse passage of any enemy troops over her terrain.

In a week-end speech, Il Duce in his usual bragging style belittled the damage to his pride fleet by the British bombers and stated that the tactics of England in striving to suppress nations to her will could only be answered by war and that the Axis powers would carry on to a glorious victory. As usual there was little of real thought or seriousness in his speech. While this was going on and during the past ten days, Hitler, at his wit's end to know what move to make to meet the rapidly changing European situation,

Italian troops evacuated Koritza today and in retreating, many guns and supplies as well as some prisoners fell into Greek hands.

blankets, cooking, candy and so on will all be sold and raffled off, and everyone from 1 to 101 years old will find something at the Carnival to interest and entertain them.

And Ern Nilsson says, and we quote: "These games are free to all over 60 who are accompanied by their parents."

The youngsters are not forgotten this time either, and for those under fourteen, a lovely bicycle will be given away as the door prize on the second night of the big event. The main prize is a $100.00 War Savings Certificate, which seems a very fine prize for everyone and any one. These certificates show the proper spirit of co-operation with our government, and inasmuch as the proceeds are to go for community projects and war efforts, the certificate will give a fine tie in with the latter purpose.

Don't forget the dates, and make up your mind now to do your part to assist this project.

A number of Raymond citizens reported Monday morning, that during the night copies of the pamphlet "End of Nazism" had been silently left on their door steps. No one, so far as we know, was seen distributing the literature, which is said to be definitely pro-Nazi.

nation has been in almost continuous conference with representatives of various governments regarding the situation. The discussions at these meetings are kept secret and the world can only surmise, but opinion is that he is trying to align all these powers with the Axis group, with the promise of rich rewards, if and when, dictatorships conquer the world and he cuts the melon.

Bulgaria is in a precarious position. If she joins the Axis, Britain is in a very fine position to bomb the Rumanian oil wells, which at present supply the bulk of Axis petrol. If she doesn't yield to Axis pressure, the troops now within her border will seize everything within reach and over run the country. Nice picture for the Bulgarians to contemplate. Italy's campaign in Egypt seems to have struck a decided stalemate and every week's delay in definite action is giving Britain more chance to take the offensive and route the Fascists from their objectives.

In Africa Gen DeGaulle is rallying the Free French forces, and in northern Africa General Maxime Weygand is busy, doing what, nobody seems to be sure. We hope to rally this territory to the support of Britain. United States reports that Petain is in no hurry to collaborate any further with the Axis and it is hinted he may go to Africa to set up a French government there.

Meanwhile Britain is waiting and watching. Meeting and defeating air attacks, and wondering what move to make in the hole Hitler will try to play next.

Training Plane Crash Near Magrath

FRANK THORPE TRANSFERRED TO STOUGHTON SASK.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thorpe returned to Raymond on Monday after spending the past three months in Calgary where Frank has been working. He left here for his holidays and after five days vacation, the illness of one of the men in the Calgary district necessitated his going to work again, and he has been relieving and assisting in extra work ever since.

He is completing his holiday now, and while holidaying is preparing to move to Stoughton Sask., in the north eastern section of that province, where a long with Stoughton, he will have ten other smaller towns to look after. We rejoice with Frank in his promotion, but we hate to see he and Mrs. Thorpe leave Raymond, where they have made a host of friends during their residence. However, our loss will be another district's gain and we wish them success and happiness in their new field. Frank told us that so far as he knew no definite appointment had been made for his position in Raymond as yet, but he expected that another man would be here within a short while to take over his work, which has been looked after from Magrath during his absence.

NEWS NOTES

Donny Nilsson is driving a new 2 ton heavy duty Dodge truck, equipped with 9 inch dual tires and capable of a gross load of nearly thirteen tons. Donny said he wanted something he could really haul a load on and from the looks of this fine new red truck he has it now.

The Raymond Merc's big sale which opened last Saturday had the store filled all day long and nine clerks were kept busy from morning till night. A good day's sales were reported and clerks were still tired and foot sore on Monday from Saturday's big rush. If you don't think there are some real bargains, look at the price tags. The Sale closes tomorrow night, Saturday, Nov. 23rd.

Mrs. Mary McCarthy, respected pioneer lady of Raymond, broke her arm in the shoulder last week when she slipped and fell in the house. She was taken to the hospital in Lethbridge for examination and treatment and is progressing as well as can be expected for so serious a break and for a person her age. Her son was expected here Monday, and Mrs. McCarthy will likely accompany him to Salt Lake City for her winter vacation as soon as she is able to make the trip. We extend our best wishes for a speedy and complete recovery.

Lions To Have Charter Night Monday

The Raymond Lion's Club met in their regular meeting Monday evening with a good attendance of members present. Matters of organization and details of their Charter night, which is to be held next Monday evening in the new First Ward Church occupied most of the evening. Like other service Clubs, Charter night is a momentous affair. The District Governor of Lions International, the Zone Chair-

Saturday morning at about 10 a.m. a training plane, with the instructor and student pilot from the Kenyon Port Air School crashed into the bank of the Pot Hole Coulee about 8 miles almost straight west of Raymond, killing both immediately as far as can be learned and completely wrecking the plane.

The crash was witnessed by an Indian youth named Raymond King, and he said that as the fliers came out of a loop or turn, one wing came off and the plane went out of control and he watched it plummet to earth. The wing and its parts were scattered over the prairie for a great distance from the plane. The Indian boy ran to the plane as fast as possible and when he discovered both men dead, he ran to the Ross Baker home where Mrs. Baker phoned Magrath police officials and also the Airport officials in Lethbridge and action was immediately underway.

G. V. Balderson of Magrath, who happened to be in the Magrath telephone office when the message was received, drove the Police out to the scene of the accident and then into Raymond, and he brought the first word of the crash to Raymond. He reported that from appearance the men had tried to bail out in their parachutes, but they were too close to the ground for the chutes to open and so they stayed in their seats in the plane and crashed with it. It hit into the bank and went in far enough that it stayed there despite the fact that the bank was so steep at that particular point that it was quite difficult to walk up it to the plane.

An official inquiry into the crash was held in Lethbridge the first of the week.

Xmas is only five weeks away. Shop early and shop in Raymond.

WAR SPREADS TO OTHER NATIONS

Just about one hundred and 20 years ago, a modern seer said these prophetic words to a group of people, "Verily, the Lord concerning the wars that will shortly come to pass.... And the time will come when war will be poured out upon all nations, beginning at this place.... And thus, with the sword and by blood, and the inhabitants of the earth shall mourn; and with famine, and plague, and earthquake, and the thunder of war, and the fierce and vivid lightning also, shall the inhabitants of the earth be made to feel the wrath, and indignation, and chastening hand of an Almighty God, until the consumption of decreed hath made a full end of all nations."

The events of the past week or longer, have tended toward a fulfillment of these prophetic words. Conferences between Russia, Bulgaria, Hungary, Spain, France, with threats by Axis powers against Turkey, Yugoslavia, Switzerland, and propaganda in the near East, with respect to China, Siam, Britain, and threats by Japan, leave very little of the earth's leave out of the picture today. Hungary has definitely thrown her weight with the Axis powers. Bulgaria is expected to follow suit. Spain and France, commentators think, will not act at once and Russia, it is believed will continue her game of watch ing and waiting to see the trend of events. No doubt Premier Molotov has not been greatly impressed with the show the Axis powers have recently made in the Greek campaign, and also the death dealing blows of the British Air Force. What will another month, or even a week bring forth.

To all lovers of freedom and democracy, the successes of the Greek troops, aided by British airmen, and backed up by the British bulldogs of the sea must be a heartening and joyful thing. Try as one might, not to glory in war, one feels a glow of joy and satisfaction as new is received of successful bombing of military objectives and a slowing up of the murderous desire and aims of power-crazed dictators of Europe. With characteristic British courage, Britain is carrying on her aid to Greece has been 100 per cent, and today, because of the geographical location of Greece she is better able than ever to protect her oil interest in Iraq and Iran. Besides this she is guarding her own shores, is conveying with a remarkable degree of safety thousands of cargoes of freight, and her air strength, steadily gaining, in planes and men, continues to wreak havoc on military objectives all over Italy, Germany, and German controlled Europe from the south of France to Norway.

What a holocaust! What a destruction of life and property by people who claim to be civilized. We may be too optimistic, but we have never felt but what Britain, in her fight for freedom will be eminently successful. With the support of her Dominions and the splendid help of the United States, she must win, and as always we shall sing, and rightly so, "There'll Always be an England."

"Did you take your change in Stamps?"

Indian Agent John E. Pugh of Cardston, a flier in the last War has been recalled to the service to act as Instructor. His post at the Agency will be filled by Anthony MacMillan, for many years an assistant at the Agency. Report state that no extra help will be added to the staff. Mr. Pugh spoke to Raymond Rotarians a few months ago on some of his experiences in the war where he was a Squadron Leader.

Yes, you can buy straw, but it is worth plenty this year. One man told us Monday he was paying one dollar a load for straw in the stack and hauling it 4 miles. Add delivery charges to that and you can see what straw will cost townspeople this year. Alfalfa hay is quoted at about $8.50 per ton in the stack. In the summer you could get all you wanted for $5.00 per ton delivered.

WEEKLY LETTER

MASTITIS IN DAIRY COWS

In the last weekly letter something was said of the cause of mastitis or garget in dairy cattle and of the different forms of this disease. This indicated that the chronic type could not always be easily discovered, especially in its early stages of development. However some practical tests have been developed to aid in detecting the disease and it is proposed to discuss these in this letter.

There is perhaps no single test that will detect all cases of chronic mastitis but three simple tests, preferably in combination, are reasonably reliable.

1. Physical Examination of the Udder: The examination of the udder should be carried out immediately after milking. The balance of the udder may first be observed, notice being taken as to whether one quarter is abnormally large or small. The deeper tissue may then be examined with the hands, lifting each quarter and kneading into the depths of the tissue. Normal udder tissue should be soft and elastic, although some "meaty" udders may remain fairly firm after milking out. When definite lumps of hard tissue can be felt, or if the whole quarter is harder due to more generalized changes, it is fairly certain that the quarter is infected.

Physical examination will not detect all cases of infection, particularly in the early stages where there may be little change in the udder tissue, but it will detect those quarters showing the most damage from the disease.

Strip-cup Test: A strip cup consists of a small metal cup with a fine wire mesh strainer type lid (A piece of black cloth may be used in place of the wire mesh.) When the first few strains of milk from each quarter are directed upon the screen or cloth, any flakes or clots can easily be seen. When this test is used, it should be borne in mind that not all infected quarters show flakes, but all quarters showing flakes or clots are infected.

Brom-Thymol-Blue Test: When an indicator known as Brom-thymol-blue is added to normal milk, the milk turns yellowish green in colour but similarly treated foremilk from infected quarters is usually a darker green or bluish green shade. This reaction generally shows up at an early stage of the infection, before other visible signs appear. It is important to remember that this test merely shows whether or not, milk is abnormal in reaction, and it cannot be used as the sole basis for deciding whether or not an udder is infected.

There is no positive cure for chronic infectious mastitis, and little can be done in the way of treatment. Therefore, emphasis must be placed upon prevention and control.

Stable hygiene is an important factor in the control of mastitis. This, of course, includes such factors as freedom from crowding which helps to prevent undue heat and udder injuries; freedom from cold draughts and cleanliness of the stable.

By use of the tests described, the majority of the infected cows can be detected. These animals should be separated from the healthy ones even if they are placed merely at opposite ends of the barn. If the number of infected animals is small that is in cases where infection in the herd is detected at as early time, it may well pay the owner to dispose of them to the butcher and thus eliminate this as a source of infection for the healthy cows.

Every effort should be made to prevent the transfer of organisms from infected cows to healthy ones. Infected cows should be milked last. Wet hand milking should not be practiced as it spreads germs easily. Fore milk should not be milked on the floor or bedding. Wiping the udder of each cow with a cloth, that has been soaked in a suitable disinfectant and then wrung out, will help prevent the spread of the mastitis germs. The cloth should be disinfected before being used on each cow. A solution made up to contain 400 parts of chlorine per million parts of water is a suitable disinfectant.

How can we tell it if you don't tell us. We like the local news and appreciate your co-operation in giving us items of local interest.

We are in receipt of a copy of a pamphlet "Benzol (Benzene) Poisoning" warning workers of the danger of poisoning from this gas. From the wording of the letter we are of the opinion that most employers where this gas might accumulate have also received a copy of the pamphlet.

HOG CARCASS GRADING STATEMENT AVAILABLE TO EVERY PRODUCER

Farmers are entitled to individual statements, from the shipper or trucker, covering hogs which they have sold showing—

1. The official carcass grade.
2. The carcass weight.
3. The price per pound for the basic grade.
4. Price differentials for the various grades.
5. Any deductions such as transportation and commission.

The official grader of the Dominion Department of Agriculture is responsible only for the grade, and issues a statement showing the grade for every farmer's lot of carcasses graded.

Most commission firms and packing houses are now issuing individual statements of settlement for every farmer's lot of hogs. In some cases these are mailed direct to farmers, but for the most part they are turned over to the shipper or trucker, and it is his responsibility to see that they reach the farmers concerned and are not discarded as sometimes happens.

The Hog Carcass Grading regulations require the shipper to:

1. Identify the hogs.
2. Provide the grader with a manifest showing particulars regarding ownership identification.
3. Issue to the farmer a statement as outlined above.
4. Make settlement to the farmer according to the official grade.

It is very much in the farmer's interest to see that whoever delivers the hogs to the market meets all these requirements.

Most shippers or truckers are efficient and trustworthy, but it is known that some are disposed to misrepresent the official carcass grading service to the farmers.

The Dominion Department of Agriculture has established an efficient system which will operate to the producer's benefit if he will only take advantage of it.

Farmers who do not receive

Director, Agricultural Department
North-West Line Elevators Association

Farmers often have occasion to find out how much grain is contained in a granary or bin. It is also useful to know how large a bin must be to hold a given amount of wheat. The necessary information is included here, so the reader should cut this out of the paper and keep it.

The first step is to find the cubic contents of the bin. For square or rectangular bins, the number of cubic feet can be found by multiplying the length x width x depth. For round bins multiply the radius x radius x 3.14 x depth (the radius is one-half the diameter).

For example, suppose our bin is 8x16 and the grain is 6 feet deep, then:

8x16x6=768 cubic feet.
Then if we have a round bin 16 feet in diameter (radius 8 feet) with the grain 7 feet deep:

8x8x3.14x7=1,406.72 cubic feet.
In order to convert cubic feet to measured bushels, it is only necessary to multiply by 0.8. Therefore, our first bin contains 768x0.8=614.4 measured bushels. Our second bin contains 1,406.72, or roughly 1,407, cubic feet. This is 1,407x0.8=1,125.6 measured bushels.

If it is desired to determine the number of bushels by weight, simply multiply the figure for measured bushels by the actual weight per bushel, and divide by the legal weight (wheat, 60 lb.; barley, 48 lb.; oats, 34 lb.). If, in our first example, the grain was wheat weighing 65-lb. per bushel, we would have 614.4x65=60,665.6 bushels.

Problem: What would be the dimensions of a bin you would build for 2,000 bushels of barley weighing 52-lb. per bushel?

They expect to finish up the carpenter work the end of this week.

COALITION

Everybody Can Do It

Coalition government has been achieved in Manitoba, and we are frankly proud of the men who have brought it about. There are differences in their points of view. But, to them, one thing looms large at present—the need of unity to produce the greatest possible power for tackling the problems before them.

This event reminded us of another "coalition"—although it was regarding a different matter, on a much smaller scale, and the difference this time was a point of honesty. It was concerning four hog graders. One of them, whom we'll call Jake, had been following the rules, grading hogs he bought for his company by the government standards. But he noticed that some of the farmers were becoming less co-operative.

It puzzled him so he did a bit of private sleuthing. He soon found that three other hog graders, friends of his, were ducking the rules and buying hogs in job lots, without holding the farmers up to standard. Jake saw this as a menace to the high standard which had been built up in the industry over a period of years. So he invited the three to talk the matter over. They all drove out in his car to a quiet spot in the country to hear what he had to say.

As they talked, it was plain that they didn't relish this dishonesty. Caught in the whirlpool of business competition, they had been working for some small advantage to their companies. Alarmed by the realization of where they had been heading, they agreed to grade hogs according to standard in the future.

Perhaps there are similar "coalitions" which we can be forming. How about that division in your office? In your home? Would not the actions of individuals be of national service when they are directed to bringing unity wherever there has been division?

A SHIELD OF FAITH

The Canadian Prime Minister: "What is necessary then to win the present conflict? It is to put on the whole armor of God, not the outward material trappings only, the helmet, the sword, and the shield, necessary as they may be for the purposes of defence and of attack. Let it never be forgotten that 'we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world,'"

"Against spiritual wickedness in high places." Let us make sure that the helmet is also one of salvation; the sword one of the spirit; and the shield, one of faith; that our loins be girt about with truth and that our breastplate is one of righteousness, and that our feet are shod with the preparation of the gospel of peace. If these things are ours, and I believe they are the weapons with which Britain and the Dominions seek to slay the dragon of Nazi Germany today, we shall find little difficulty in reconciling our war aims and our peace aims.

"To slay the dragon which has been fascinating its victims by fear, poisoning the springs of their moral and intellectual being at the source and which would prey upon their vitals for years to come is clearly the first task of a civilization which would save itself. In equal measure, however, we must strive throughout the struggle itself, and more than ever when the evil dragon of Nazism is slain to see that never again, in our own or in any other land, shall the gods of material power, of worldly possessions and of special privilege be permitted to exercise their sway. Never again must we allow any man or any group of men to subjugate by fear and to crush by the power of might the spirit and the lives of honest and humble men." — House of Commons, Nov. 12.

ONE-WAY FARE CHRISTMAS or NEW YEAR'S LEAVE

All ranks of the C.A.S.F. proceeding on leave during Christmas or New Year's will be able to secure a return ticket to their destination at the cost of one-way fare. The duration of the leave will be six days and no more than 50 per cent of the strength of any unit, in any rank will be permitted away at one time. The Defence Department expressly stipulates that whether leave can be granted will depend in all cases on the nature of the service being undertaken by the man concerned, the necessity of having certain types of training completed speedily, and the importance of the service from the point of view of the defence of Canada and of war conditions generally.

The Department adds: "The guiding factor in the consideration of leave privileges to men on active service must be the defence and safety of the country and the obligations we are under by virtue of our war commitments. These have been duly weighed and fully discussed and their influence is to be observed in the decision now communicated."
